This section is part of an act which transfers the execution of the laws relating to forest reserves from the Secretary of the Interior to the Secretary of Agriculture, other sections of which are set forth post, under this chapter, subchapter "National Forests."

[NATIONAL FORESTS.]

In the Compiled Statutes of 1901, the provisions relating to the forest reserves established by Act March 3, 1891, c. 561, § 24, and other acts, are collected in a separate subchapter under the heading "Forest Reserves." By a provision of Act March 4, 1907, c. 2907, set forth below, the forest reserves are to be known as "National Forests." The heading of this subchapter is changed accordingly, as above.

ACT MARCH 3, 1891, c. 561, § 24.

Establishment of forest reserves.

Before the passage of Act March 3, 1891, c. 561, § 24, set forth in Comp. St. 1901, p. 1537, providing for the setting apart and reservation by the President of forest lands, certain tracts of land in the State of California had been set apart as reserved forest lands, by Act Oct. 1, 1890, c. 1263, set forth below. And certain lands are segregated from Yosemite National Park, and are also set apart as reserved forest lands, by Act Feb. 7, 1905, c. 547, set forth below, and by Res. June 11, 1906, No. 27, also set forth below, accepting the recession by the State of California of the Yosemite Valley and the Mariposa Big Tree Grove, and setting apart said tracts and other lands as reserved forest lands.

Numerous special provisions for the disposition of Indian reservation lands either set apart a portion of such lands as a forest reserve, as though set apart by proclamation of the President under said Act March 3, 1891, c. 561, § 24, and subsequent laws amending and supplementing the same, or authorize the President to set apart a portion thereof, as he may deem proper, to constitute a forest reserve or to be added to such a reserve already existing.

A national forest in the State of Minnesota is created by Act May 23, 1908, c. 193, 35 Stat. 268.

By provision of Act March 4, 1907, c. 2907, set forth below, no forest reserve is to be created thereafter, nor are any additions to be made to one theretofore created, in the States of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Colorado, or Wyoming, except by act of Congress.

The Secretary of Agriculture is to execute, or cause to be executed, all laws affecting public lands reserved under Act March 3, 1901, c. 561, § 24, set forth in Comp. St. 1901, p. 1537, and acts supplemental to and amendatory thereof, after such lands have been so reserved, except such laws as affect the surveying, etc., entering, etc., or patenting of any of such lands, by Act Feb. 1, 1905, c. 288, § 1, set forth below. The supervision of the forest reserves is thereby transferred from the Secretary of the Interior to the Secretary of Agriculture.

Agricultural lands within forest reserves may be opened to homestead entry, by Act June 11, 1906, c. 3074, set forth below.

Provisions for protection of wild animals and birds in certain forest reserves are contained in Act Jan. 24, 1905, c. 137, and Act June 29, 1906, c. 3593, set forth below. And provisions for protection of birds and their eggs on lands set apart or reserved as breeding grounds for birds are contained in Act June 28, 1906, c. 3565, also set forth below.

Be it enacted, &c., * * [Part of act omitted temporary, relating to proceedings for establishment of Hot Springs Reservation.] And the Secretary of the Interior is hereby directed to lease to the present proprietors of the Arlington Hotel or their assigns the grounds, not exceeding one acre, now occupied by them, for a period of ten years, unless otherwise provided by law, at an annual rental of one thousand dollars. And he is further directed to lease the bath houses of a permanent nature now upon the Hot Springs reservation to the owners of the same, and lease to any person or persons upon such terms as may be agreed on, sites for the building of other bath houses for the term of five years, unless otherwise provided by law, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe; and the tax imposed shall not exceed fifteen dollars per tub per annum, including land rent: Provided, That said leases shall in no way prejudice any legal right that any person or persons may have acquired under the act hereby revived and continued, to any improvements on said ground: And provided further, That the Secretary of the Interior be, and he is hereby, authorized to grant to hotels having bath houses attached, and to bath houses situated on the Hot Springs Reservation, as well as in the city of Hot Springs, Arkansas, the right to install, maintain, and use, either in said bath houses or in connection with the rooms of said hotels or the bath houses attached to said hotels, as many bath tubs as in his discretion he may deem proper and necessary for the public service and the amount of hot water will justify. Act Dec. 16, 1878, c. 5, 20 Stat. 258. April 12, 1904, c. 1249, 33 Stat. 173.

The sundry civil appropriation act for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1879, Act June 20, 1878, c. 359, § 1, 20 Stat. 230, mentioned in the title of this act, contained a provision in the same words as that of this act for the lease of bath houses of a permanent nature, followed by the words, "Provided, That;" the substance of the proviso being omitted.

The second proviso of this act, as originally enacted, which limited the supply of water to not more than enough for 40 bath tubs of the usual size to a single establishment, is stricken out, and in lieu thereof the second proviso set forth here is inserted, by Act April 12, 1904, c. 1249, cited above.

The portion of this act omitted here made an appropriation for the expenses of the Hot Springs Commission, and provided for the appointment of a board of commissioners, conferring upon them the powers of the commissioners appointed under the previous Act March 3, 1877, c. 108, 19 Stat. 377, to lay out, etc., the Hot Springs Reservation, and revived and continued in force said preceding act, to enable the commissioners to perform the acts and duties authorized by it. These and other earlier provisions relating to the establishment and management of the reservation were temporary merely and have been executed.

The provisions of this act relating to leases of ground, bath houses, etc., were also in part temporary in nature, and appear to be superseded, to a great extent, by those of Act March 3, 1891, c. 533, set forth below; but this act is recognized by the subsequent amendment by Act April 12, 1904, c. 1249, mentioned above.

The cession by the State of Arkansas to the United States of exclusive jurisdiction over a part of the permanent Hot Springs Reservation is accepted, and the prosecution and punishment of offenses committed therein are provided for, by Act April 20, 1904, c. 1400, set forth below.

The boundary line of the Hot Springs Reservation is changed, and a tract of land excluded thereby is ceded to the city of Hot Springs for street purposes, by Act May 23, 1906, c. 2552, set forth below.

Certain lots situate on the Hot Springs Reservation are granted to the school district of Hot Springs by Act April 30, 1908, c. 154, set forth below.

Provisions for the reservation of certain lands at or in the vicinity of the village of Sulphur in the Chickasaw Nation, Indian Territory, embracing the natural springs and so much of certain creeks and the lands adjacent to said springs and creeks as necessary for the utilization and control of the waters, were made by Act July 1, 1902, c. 1362, par. 64, 32 Stat. 655, and Act April 21, 1904, c. 1402, § 18, 33 Stat. 220; but the provision first mentioned declared its intention to be "that in the future the lands and improvements herein mentioned shall be conveyed by the United States to such territorial or state organization as may exist at the time when such conveyance is made." By Res. June 29, 1906, No. 42, 34 Stat. 837, the Secretary of the Interior is directed "to change the name of the Sulphur Springs Reservation, an Indian reservation now in the State of Oklahoma, formerly in the Indian Territory, so that said Reservation shall be named and hereafter called the 'Platt National Park,'" in honor of the late Senator Platt, of Connecticut.

Preamble.

Whereas, the rapid destruction of timber and ornamental trees in various parts of the United States, some of which trees are the wonders of the world on account of their size and the limited number growing, makes it a matter of importance that at least some of said forests should be preserved: Therefore Act Sept. 25, 1890, c. 926, § 1, 26 Stat. 478.

Other lands in California were set apart as forest reserves, and provisions similar to those of this act in regard to rules and regulations, leases of ground, preservation of fish and game, trespassers, etc., were made by Act Oct. 1, 1890, c. 1263, and Act Feb. 7, 1905, c. 547, set forth ante, under this chapter, subchapter "National Forests."

The forest lands set aside and reserved in said Act Feb. 7, 1905, c. 547, § 1, are to be known as the "Yosemite National Park," by a provision of said section, set forth ante, under this chapter, subchapter "National Forests."

On the acceptance of the recession by the State of California of the Yosemite Valley and the Mariposa Big Tree Grove, said tracts, with other lands, were set apart as reserved forest lands and made part of the Yosemite National Park, and the south and west boundary lines of the park were changed, and lands thereby excluded from the park were added to the Sierra Forest Reserve, by Res. June 11, 1906, No. 27, § 1, also set forth ante, under this chapter, subchapter "National Forests."

The detail of troops for the protection of the lands set apart by this act, included in the Sequoia National Park, and of the Yosemite National Park and the General Grant National Park, is authorized by a provision of Act June 6, 1900, c. 791, § 1, set forth in Comp. St. 1901, p. 1566.

That said public park shall be under the exclusive control of the Secretary of the Interior, whose duty it shall be, as soon as practicable, to make and publish such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary or proper for the care and management of the same. Such regulations shall provide for the preservation from injury of all timber, mineral deposits, natural curiosities or wonders within said park, and their retention in their natural condition. The Secretary may, in his discretion, grant leases for building purposes for terms not exceeding ten years of small parcels of ground not exceeding five acres, at such places in said park as shall require the erection of buildings for the accommodation of visitors; all of the proceeds of said leases and other revenues that may be derived from any source connected with said park to be expended under his direction in the management of the same and the construction of roads and paths therein. He shall provide against the wanton destruction of the fish and game found within said park, and against their capture or destruction, for the purposes of merchandise or profit. He shall also cause all persons trespassing upon the same after the passage of this act to be removed therefrom, and, generally, shall be authorized to take all such measures as shall be necessary or proper to fully carry out the objects and purposes of this act.

The provisions of this act apply also to Indian reservations and allotted Indian lands in the Territory of Oklahoma, by a proviso annexed to section 23 of the act, set forth below.

Width of right of way; grounds for stations, etc., yards, etc.; water supply; changes.

Sec. 14. That the right of way of any railway company shall not exceed one hundred feet in width except where there are heavy cuts and fills, when one hundred feet additional may be taken on each side of said right of way; but lands additional and adjacent to said right of way may be taken and condemned by any railway company for station grounds, buildings, depots, side tracks, turnouts, or other railroad purposes not exceeding two hundred feet in width by a length of two thousand feet. And when necessary for a good and sufficient water supply in the operation of any railroad, any such railway company shall have the right to take and condemn additional lands for reservoirs for water stations, and for such purpose shall have the right to impound surface water or build dams across any creek, draw, canyon, or stream, and shall have the right to connect the same by pipe line with the railroad and take the necessary grounds for such purposes; and any railway company shall have the right to change or straighten its line, reduce its grades or curves, and locate new stations and to take the lands and right of way necessary therefor under the provisions of this Act.

Act Feb. 28, 1902, c. 134, § 14, 32 Stat. 47.

Compensation for right of way and damages; maps to be filed; appraisement of compensation, etc., award, appeal, fees, and costs.

Sec. 15. That before any railroad shall be constructed or any lands taken or condemned for any of the purposes set forth in the preceding section, full compensation for such right of way and all land taken and all damage done or to be done by the construction of the railroad, or the taking of any lands for railroad purposes, shall be made to the individual owner, occupant, or allottee of such lands, and to the tribe or nation through or in which the same is situated: Provided, That correct maps of the said line of railroad in sections of twenty-five miles each, and of any lands taken under this Act, shall be filed in the Department of the Interior, and shall also be filed with the United States Indian agent for Indian Territory, and with the principal chief or governor of any tribe or nation through which the lines of railroad may be located or in which said lines are situated.

In case of the failure of any railway company to make amicable settlement with any individual owner, occupant, allottee, tribe, or nation for any right of way or lands or improvements sought to be appropriated or condemned under this Act, all compensation and damages to be paid to the dissenting individual owner, occupant, allottee, tribe, or nation by reason of the appropriation and condemnation of said right of way, lands, or improvements shall be determined by the appraisement of three disinterested referees, to be appointed by the judge of the United States court, or other court of jurisdiction in the district where such lands are situated, on application of the corporation or other person or party in interest. Such referees, before entering upon the duties of their appointment, shall each take and subscribe, before competent authority, an oath that he will faithfully and impartially discharge the duties of his appointment, which oaths, duly certified, shall be returned with the award of the referees to the clerk of the court by which they were appointed. The referees shall also find in their report the names of the person and persons, tribe, or nation to whom the damages are payable and the interest of each person, tribe, or nation in the award of damages. Before such referees shall proceed with the assessment of damages for any right of way or other lands condemned under this Act, twenty days' notice of the time when the same shall be condemned shall be given to all persons interested, by publication in some newspaper in general circulation nearest said property in the district where said right of way or said lands are situated, or by ten days' personal notice to each person owning or having any interest in said lands or right of way: Provided, That such notice to any tribe or nation may be served on the principal chief or governor of the tribe. If the referees can not agree, then any two of them are authorized to and shall make the award. Any party to the proceedings who is dissatisfied with the award of the referees shall have the right, within ten days after the making of the award, to appeal, by original petition, to the United States court, or other court of competent jurisdiction, sitting at the place nearest and most convenient to the property sought to be taken, where the question of the damages occasioned by the taking of the lands in controversy shall be tried de novo, and the judgment rendered by the court shall be final and conclusive, subject, however, to appeal as in other cases.

When the award of damages is filed with the clerk of the court by the referees, the railway company shall deposit the amount of such award with the clerk of the court, to abide the judgment thereof, and shall then have the right to enter upon and take possession of the property sought to be condemned: Provided, That when the said railway company is not satisfied with the award, it shall have the right, before commencing construction, to abandon any portion of said right of way and adopt a new location, subject, however, as to such new location, to all the provisions of this Act. Each of the referees shall receive for his compensation the sum of four dollars per day while actually engaged in the appraisement of the property and the hearing of any matter submitted to them under this Act. Witnesses shall receive the fees and mileage allowed by law to witness in courts of record within the districts where such lands are located. Costs, including compensation of the referees, shall be made part of the award or judgment and be paid by the railway company: Provided, That if any party or person other than the railway company shall appeal from any award, and the judgment of the court does not award such appealing party or person more than the referees awarded, all costs occasioned by such appeal shall be paid by such appealing party or person.

Act Feb. 28, 1902, c. 134, § 15, 32 Stat. 47.

Annual charge payable to tribe or nation owning or occupying lands; regulation of freight and other charges for transportation.

Sec. 16. That where a railroad is constructed under the provisions of this Act there shall be paid by the railway company to the Secretary of the Interior, for the benefit of the particular tribe or nation through whose lands any such railroad may be constructed, an annual charge of fifteen dollars per mile for each mile of road constructed, the same to be paid so long as said lands shall be owned and occupied by such nation or tribe, which payment shall be in addition to the compensation otherwise provided herein; and the grants herein are made upon the condition that Congress hereby reserves the right to regulate the charges for freight and passengers on said railways and messages on all telegraph and telephone lines until a State government or governments shall exist in said Territory within the limits of which any railway shall be located; and then such State government or governments shall be authorized to fix and regulate the cost of transportation of persons and freights within their respective limits by such railways; but Congress expressly reserves the right to fix and regulate at all times the cost of such transportation by said railways whenever such transportation shall extend from one State into another, or shall extend into more than one State; and that the railway companies shall carry the mail at such prices as Congress may by law provide; and until such rate is fixed by law the Postmaster-General may fix the rate of compensation.

Act Feb. 28, 1902, c. 134, § 16, 32 Stat. 48.

Crossings and connections; proceedings to acquire right, determination, and appeal; penalty for violation of provisions of section.

Sec. 17. That any railway company authorized to construct, own, or operate a railroad in said Territory desiring to cross or unite its tracks with any other railroad upon the grounds of such other railway company shall, after fifteen days' notice in writing to such other railroad company, make application in writing to the judge of the United States court for the district in which it is proposed to make such crossing or connection for the appointment of three disinterested referees to determine the necessity, place, manner, and time of such crossing or connection. The provisions of section three of this Act with respect to the condemnation of right of way through tribal or individual lands shall, except as in this section otherwise provided, apply to proceedings to acquire the right to cross or connect with another railroad. Upon the hearing of any such application to cross or connect with any other railroad, either party or the referees may call and examine witnesses in regard to the matter, and said referees shall have the same power to administer oaths to witnesses that is now possessed by United States commissioners in said Territory, and said referees shall, after such hearing and a personal examination of the locality where a crossing or connection is desired, determine whether there is a necessity for such crossing or not, and if so, the place thereof, whether it shall be over or under the existing railroad, or at grade, and in other respects the manner of such crossing and the terms upon which the same shall be made and maintained: Provided, That no crossing shall be made through the yards or over the switches or side tracks of any existing railroad if a crossing can be effected at any other place that is practicable. If either party shall be dissatisfied with the terms of the order made by said referees it may appeal to the United States court of the Indian Territory for the district wherein such crossing or connection is sought to be made in the same manner as appeals are allowed from a judgment of a United States commissioner to said court, and said appeal and all subsequent proceedings shall only affect the amount of compensation, if any, and other terms of crossing fixed by said referees, but shall not delay the making of said crossing or connection: Provided, That the corporation desiring such crossing or connection shall deposit with the clerk of the court the amount of compensation, if any is fixed by said referees, and shall execute and file with said clerk a bond of sufficient security, to be approved by the court or a judge thereof in vacation, to pay all damages and comply with all terms that may be adjudged by the court. Any railway company which shall violate or evade any of the provisions of this section shall forfeit for every such offense, to the person, company, or corporation injured thereby, three times the actual damages sustained by the party aggrieved.

The provisions of section 3 of this act, mentioned in this section, relate to the condemnation of the right of way of the Enid and Anadarko Railway Company through lands held by individuals according to the laws, etc., of any Indian nation or tribe, and differ from the provisions of section 15 of this act, set forth above. Section 3 is as follows:

"That before said railway shall be constructed through any lands held by individual occupants according to the laws, customs, and usages of any of the Indian nations or tribes through which it may be constructed, full compensation shall be made to such occupants for all property to be taken or damage done by reason of the construction of such railway. In case of failure to make amicable settlement with any occupant, such compensation shall be determined by the appraisement of three disinterested referees, to be appointed, one (who shall act as chairman) by the Secretary of the Interior, one by the chief of the nation to which said occupant belongs, and one by said railway company, who, before entering upon the duties of their appointment, shall take and subscribe before a district judge, clerk of a district court, or United States commissioner, an oath that they will faithfully and impartially discharge the duties of their appointment, which oath, duly certified, shall be returned with their award to and filed with the Secretary of the Interior within sixty days from the completion thereof; and a majority of said referees shall be competent to act in case of the absence of a member, after due notice. And upon the failure of either party to make such appointment within thirty days after the appointment made by the Secretary of the Interior, the vacancy shall be filled by a judge of the United States court for the Indian Territory upon the application of the other party. The chairman of said board shall appoint the time and place for all hearings within the nation to which such occupant belongs. Each of said referees shall receive for his services the sum of four dollars per day for each day they are engaged in the trial of any case submitted to them under this Act, with mileage at five cents per mile. Witnesses shall receive the usual fees allowed by the courts of said nations. Costs, including compensation of the referees, shall be made a part of the award, and be paid by such railway company. In case the referees cannot agree, then any two of them are authorized to make the award. Either party being dissatisfied with the finding of the referees shall have the right, within ninety days after the making of the award and notice of the same, to appeal by original petition to the United States court for the Indian Territory, which court shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine the subject-matter of said petition, according to the laws of the Territory in which the same shall be heard provided for determining the damage when property is taken for railroad purposes. If upon the hearing of said appeal the judgment of the court shall be for a larger sum than the award of the referees, the cost of said appeal shall be adjudged against the railway company. If the judgment of the court shall be for the same sum as the award of the referees, then the costs shall be adjudged against the appellant. If the judgment of the court shall be for a smaller sum than the award of the referees, then the costs shall be adjudged against the party claiming damages. When proceedings have been commenced in court, the railway company shall pay double the amount of the award into court to abide the judgment thereof, and then have the right to enter upon the property sought to be condemned and proceed with the construction of the railway."

Interlocking or automatic signals at crossings.

Sec. 18. That when in any case two or more railroads crossing each other at a common grade shall, by a system of interlocking or automatic signals, or by any works or fixtures to be erected by them, render it safe for engines and trains to pass over such crossing without stopping, and such interlocking or automatic signals or works or fixtures shall be approved by the Interstate Commerce Commissioners, then, in that case, it is hereby made lawful for the engines and trains of such railroad or railroads to pass over such crossing without stopping, any law or the provisions of any law to the contrary notwithstanding; and when two or more railroads cross each other at a common grade, either of such roads may apply to the Interstate Commerce Commissioners for permission to introduce upon both of said railroads some system of interlocking or automatic signals or works or fixtures rendering it safe for engines and trains to pass over such crossings without stopping, and it shall be the duty of said Interstate Commerce Commissioners, if the system of works and fixtures which it is proposed to erect by said company are, in the opinion of the Commission, sufficient and proper, to grant such permission.

And where the time for the completion of a railroad in Indian Territory under any Act granting a right of way therefor has expired, or shall hereafter expire, in advance of the construction of such railroad, or of any part thereof, the Secretary of the Interior may, upon good cause shown, extend the time for the completion of such railroad, or of any part thereof, for a time not exceeding two years from the date of such extension.

Right of way through Indian reservations or other Indian lands for pipe lines.

Be it enacted, &c., That the Secretary of the Interior is hereby authorized and empowered to grant a right of way in the nature of an easement for the construction, operation, and maintenance of pipe lines for the conveyance of oil and gas through any Indian reservation, through any lands held by an Indian tribe or nation in the Indian Territory, through any lands reserved for an Indian agency or Indian school, or for other purpose in connection with the Indian service, or through any lands which have been allotted in severalty to any individual Indian under any law or treaty, but which have not been conveyed to the allottee with full power of alienation, upon the terms and conditions herein expressed. No such lines shall be constructed across Indian lands, as above mentioned, until authority therefor has first been obtained from, and the maps of definite location of said lines approved by, the Secretary of the Interior: Provided, That the construction of lateral lines from the main pipe line establishing connection with oil and gas wells on the individual allotments of citizens may be constructed without securing authority from the Secretary of the Interior and without filing maps of definite location, when the consent of the allottee upon whose lands oil or gas wells may be located and of all other allottees through whose lands said lateral pipe lines may pass has been obtained by the pipe line company: Provided further, That in case it is desired to run a pipe line under the line of any railroad, and satisfactory arrangements can not be made with the railroad company, then the question shall be referred to the Secretary of the Interior, who shall prescribe the terms and conditions under which the pipe line company shall be permitted to lay its lines under said railroad. The compensation to be paid the tribes in their tribal capacity and the individual allottees for such right of way through their lands shall be determined in such manner as the Secretary of the Interior may direct, and shall be subject to his final approval. And where such lines are not subject to State or Territorial taxation the company or owner of the line shall pay to the Secretary of the Interior, for the use and benefit of the Indians, such annual tax as he may designate, not exceeding five dollars for each ten miles of line so constructed and maintained under such rules and regulations as said Secretary may prescribe. But nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to exempt the owners of such lines from the payment of any tax that may be lawfully assessed against them by either State, Territorial, or municipal authority. And incorporated cities and towns into and through which such pipe lines may be constructed shall have the power to regulate the manner of construction therein, and nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to deny the right of municipal taxation in such towns and cities, and nothing herein shall authorize the use of such right of way except for pipe line, and then only so far as may be necessary for its construction, maintenance, and care: Provided, That the rights herein granted shall not extend beyond a period of twenty years: Provided further, That the Secretary of the Interior, at the expiration of said twenty years, may extend the right to maintain any pipe line constructed under this Act for another period not to exceed twenty years from the expiration of the first right, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem proper.

364. The standard samples of all wools which are now or may be hereafter deposited in the principal custom-houses of the United States, under the authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall be the standards for the classification of wools under this Act, and the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to renew these standards and to make such additions to them from time to time as may be required, and he shall cause to be deposited like standards in other custom-houses of the United States when they may be needed.

365. Whenever wools of class three shall have been improved by the admixture of Merino or English blood, from their present character as represented by the standard samples now or hereafter to be deposited in the principal custom-houses of the United States, such improved wools shall be classified for duty either as class one or as class two, as the case may be.

Allowance for shortage, etc., caused by decay, etc., of perishable goods; allowance for damage; abandonment of goods, after entry, and relief from payment of duty.

Sec. 22. No allowance shall be made in the estimation and liquidation of duties for shortage or nonimportation caused by decay, destruction or injury to fruit or other perishable articles imported into the United States whereby their commercial value has been destroyed, unless under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. Proof to ascertain such destruction or nonimportation shall be lodged with the collector of customs of the port where such merchandise has been landed, or the person acting as such, within ten days after the landing of such merchandise. The provisions hereof shall apply whether or not the merchandise has been entered, and whether or not the duties have been paid or secured to be paid, and whether or not a permit of delivery has been granted to the owner or consignee. Nor shall any allowance be made for damage, but the importers may within ten days after entry abandon to the United States all or any portion of goods, wares or merchandise of every description included in any invoice and be relieved from the payment of duties on the portion so abandoned: Provided, That the portion so abandoned shall amount to ten per centum or more of the total value or quantity of the invoice. All merchandise abandoned to the Government by the importers shall be delivered by the importers thereof at such place within the port of arrival as the chief officer of customs may direct, and on the failure of the importers to comply with the direction of the collector or the chief officer of customs, as the case may be, the abandoned merchandise shall be disposed of by the customs authorities under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, at the expense of such importers. Where imported fruit or perishable goods have been condemned at the port of original entry within ten days after landing, by health officers or other legally constituted authorities, the importers or their agents shall, within twenty-four hours after such condemnation, lodge with the collector, or the person acting as collector, of said port, notice thereof in writing, together with an invoice description and the quantity of the articles condemned, their location, and the name of the vessel in which imported. Upon receipt of said notice the collector, or person acting as collector, shall at once cause an investigation and a report to be made in writing by at least two customs officers touching the identity and quantity of fruit or perishable goods condemned, and unless proof to ascertain the shortage or nonimportation of fruit or perishable goods shall have been lodged as herein required, or if the importer or his agent fails to notify the collector of such condemnation proceedings as herein provided, proof of such shortage or nonimportation shall not be deemed established and no allowance shall be made in the liquidation of duties chargeable thereon.

That hereafter the salary of each of the general appraisers of merchandise shall be at the rate of nine thousand dollars per annum.

That the boards of general appraisers and the members thereof shall have and possess all the powers of a circuit court of the United States in preserving order, compelling the attendance of witnesses, and the production of evidence, and in punishing for contempt.

All notices in writing to collectors of dissatisfaction of any decision thereof, as to the rate or amount of duties chargeable upon imported merchandise, including all dutiable costs and charges, and as to all fees and exactions of whatever character (except duties on tonnage), with the invoice and all papers and exhibits, shall be forwarded to the board of nine general appraisers of merchandise at New York to be by rule thereof assigned for hearing or determination, or both. That the appraiser shall revise and correct the reports of the assistant appraisers as he may judge proper, and the appraiser, or, at ports where there is no appraiser, the person acting as such, shall report to the collector his decision as to the value of the merchandise appraised. At ports where there is no appraiser the certificate of the customs officer to whom is committed the estimating and collection of duties, of the dutiable value of any merchandise required to be appraised, shall be deemed and taken to be the appraisement of such merchandise. If the collector shall deem the appraisement of any imported merchandise too low, he may, within sixty days thereafter, appeal to reappraisement, which shall be made by one of the general appraisers, or if the importer, owner, agent, or consignee of such merchandise shall be dissatisfied with the appraisement thereof, and shall have complied with the requirements of law with respect to the entry and appraisement of merchandise, he may within ten days thereafter give notice to the collector, in writing, of such dissatisfaction. The decision of the general appraiser in cases of reappraisement shall be final and conclusive as to the dutiable value of such merchandise against all parties interested therein, unless the importer, owner, consignee, or agent of the merchandise shall be dissatisfied with such decision, and shall, within five days thereafter, give notice to the collector, in writing, of such dissatisfaction, or unless the collector shall deem the reappraisement of the merchandise too low, and shall within ten days thereafter appeal to re-reappraisement; in either case the collector shall transmit the invoice and all the papers appertaining thereto to the board of nine general appraisers, to be by rule thereof duly assigned for determination. "Sixth. Dealers in leaf-tobacco, except retail dealers in leaf-tobacco, as hereinafter defined, shall pay twenty-five dollars. The amount so added to the tax shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as the tax originally assessed unless the refusal, neglect, or falsity is discovered after the date for payment of said taxes, in which case the amount so added shall be paid by the delinquent corporation, joint stock company or association, or insurance company, immediately upon notice given by the collector. The committee shall aid said Secretary in securing the proper fulfillment of the contracts for such supplies, for which purpose the said Secretary shall prescribe, and all departments comply with, rules providing for such examination and tests of the articles received as may be necessary for such purpose; in making additions to the said schedule; in opening and considering the bids, and shall perform such other similar duties as he may assign to them: Provided, That the articles intended to be purchased in this manner are those in common use by or suitable to the ordinary needs of two or more such departments or establishments; but the said Secretary shall have discretion to amend the annual common supply schedule from time to time as to any articles that, in his judgment, can as well be thus purchased. In all cases only one bond for the proper performance of each contract shall be required, notwithstanding that supplies for more than one department or government establishment are included in such contract. Every purchase or drawing of such supplies from the contractor shall be immediately reported to said committee. No disbursing officer shall be a member of such committee. No department or establishment shall purchase or draw supplies from the common schedule through more than one office or bureau, except in case of detached bureaus or offices having field or outlying service, which may purchase directly from the contractor with the permission of the head of their department: And provided further, That telephone service, electric light, and power service purchased or contracted for from companies or individuals shall be so obtained by him.

Bonds of contractors for public buildings or works; rights of persons furnishing labor and materials; remedies on bonds, and proceedings in actions thereon.

"That hereafter any person or persons entering into a formal contract with the United States for the construction of any public building, or the prosecution and completion of any public work, or for repairs upon any public building or public work, shall be required, before commencing such work, to execute the usual penal bond, with good and sufficient sureties, with the additional obligation that such contractor or contractors shall promptly make payments to all persons supplying him or them with labor and materials in the prosecution of the work provided for in such contract; and any person, company, or corporation who has furnished labor or materials used in the construction or repair of any public building or public work, and payment for which has not been made, shall have the right to intervene and be made a party to any action instituted by the United States on the bond of the contractor, and to have their rights and claims adjudicated in such action and judgment rendered thereon, subject, however, to the priority of the claim and judgment of the United States. If the full amount of the liability of the surety on said bond is insufficient to pay the full amount of said claims and demands, then, after paying the full amount due the United States, the remainder shall be distributed pro rata among said interveners. If no suit should be brought by the United States within six months from the completion and final settlement of said contract, then the person or persons supplying the contractor with labor and materials shall, upon application therefor, and furnishing affidavit to the Department under the direction of which said work has been prosecuted that labor or materials for the prosecution of such work has been supplied by him or them, and payment for which has not been made, be furnished with a certified copy of said contract and bond, upon which he or they shall have a right of action, and shall be, and are hereby, authorized to bring suit in the name of the United States in the circuit court of the United States in the district in which said contract was to be performed and executed, irrespective of the amount in controversy in such suit, and not elsewhere, for his or their use and benefit, against said contractor and his sureties, and to prosecute the same to final judgment and execution: Provided, That where suit is instituted by any of such creditors on the bond of the contractor it shall not be commenced until after the complete performance of said contract and final settlement thereof, and shall be commenced within one year after the performance and final settlement of said contract, and not later: And provided further, That where suit is so instituted by a creditor or by creditors, only one action shall be brought, and any creditor may file his claim in such action and be made party thereto within one year from the completion of the work under said contract, and not later. If the recovery on the bond should be inadequate to pay the amounts found due to all of said creditors, judgment shall be given to each creditor pro rata of the amount of the recovery. The surety on said bond may pay into court, for distribution among said claimants and creditors, the full amount of the sureties' liability, to wit, the penalty named in the bond, less any amount which said surety may have had to pay to the United States by reason of the execution of said bond, and upon so doing the surety will be relieved from further liability: Provided further, That in all suits instituted under the provisions of this Act such personal notice of the pendency of such suits, informing them of their right to intervene as the court may order, shall be given to all known creditors, and in addition thereto notice of publication in some newspaper of general circulation, published in the State or town where the contract is being performed, for at least three successive weeks, the last publication to be at least three months before the time limited therefor."

Act Feb. 26, 1907, c. 1635, § 1, 34 Stat. 943.

These are provisions, under the heading "Government Printing Office," in the legislative, executive, and judicial appropriation act for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1908, cited above. The appropriations for the several officers, clerks, and employés named are for the fiscal year only, but reference to them is necessary to the application of the requirement in the last paragraph of estimates for subsequent years "for all clerks and employees additional to the foregoing who may be required in the executive or administrative offices" of that Office.

A previous provision requiring the Public Printer to submit "for the fiscal year nineteen hundred and seven, and annually thereafter," estimates similar to those required by this act, was contained in the similar appropriation act for the preceding year, Act June 22, 1906, c. 3514, § 1, 34 Stat. 397. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1909, appropriations for the same officers, etc., and of the same amounts, were contained in the sundry civil appropriation act for that year, Act May 27, 1908, c. 200, § 1, 35 Stat. 381, under the head "Government Printing Office," with the same requirement of estimates to be submitted for the fiscal year 1910, and annually thereafter, and a similar restriction that "no funds other than those specifically appropriated under said estimates shall be used during said fiscal year for services in the Government Printing Office of the character specified in said estimates and appropriated for thereunder." But in the sundry civil appropriation acts for the fiscal year 1910 and subsequent years, under the head "Government Printing Office," the appropriations are in a different arrangement, and provide for officers, clerks, and employés and rates of compensation in various offices other than those included in the previous acts, and are followed by other provisions as to the use of the funds appropriated by each such act.

Before this act, the salary of the Public Printer was $4,500 per annum, by provisions of Act Jan. 12, 1895, c. 23, § 17, Comp. St. 1901, p. 2541, and subsequent appropriations therefor. The appropriation of $5,500 is continued in the appropriations subsequent to this act.

The provision of this act as to the qualifications and duties of the deputy public printer are repeated in Act May 27, 1908, c. 200, § 1, 35 Stat. 382. The appropriation for his salary is increased to $4,500, for the fiscal year 1910 and subsequent years, by the appropriations for each year. The provision for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1912, is by Act March 4, 1911, c. 285, § 1, 36 Stat. 1445.

The office of the Superintendent of Documents is to be under the control of the Public Printer, and the disbursements on account of the office are to be made by the Public Printer, by a provision of Act March 4, 1909, c. 299, § 1, set forth below.

The appropriations in this act and in Act May 27, 1908, c. 200, § 1, 35 Stat. 1020, for the offices of foreman of printing, foreman of presswork, foreman of binding, and superintendent of supplies, are not repeated in the appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1910, Act March 4, 1909, c. 299, § 1, 35 Stat. 1020, under the head "Government Printing Office," but under "Public Printing and Binding," appropriations are made for salaries, etc., of all necessary employés additional to the sums specifically appropriated, including the compensation of the foreman of binding; and the similar appropriations for the subsequent years include the compensation of the foreman of binding and the foreman of printing. The provision for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1912, is by Act March 4, 1911, c. 285, § 1, 36 Stat. 1445.

Be it enacted, &c., That section two of the Act approved January twelfth, eighteen hundred and ninety-five, providing for the public printing and binding and the distribution of public documents, be amended to read as follows:

Joint Committee on Printing to remedy neglect or delay in public printing.

"Sec. 2. Paragraph 1. That the Joint Committee on Printing shall have power to adopt such measures as may be deemed necessary to remedy any neglect or delay in the execution of the public printing and binding.

A provision in the same language as that of this paragraph was contained in Act Jan. 12, 1895, c. 23, § 2, Comp. St. 1901, p. 2536, as originally enacted.

The Public Printer shall require each requisition for reprinting to cite the specific authority of law for its execution.

Reports or documents not exceeding 50 pages are not affected by paragraph 6 of this section, as amended by this act, by a provision thereof, as set forth below.

Printing for committees of Congress; resolutions required for more than 1,000 copies.

"Par. 3. No committee of Congress shall be empowered to procure the printing of more than one thousand copies of any hearing or other document, which shall be germane thereto, for its use except by simple, concurrent, or joint resolution, as hereinafter provided.

Printing extra copies; resolutions; orders within $200.

"Par. 4. Orders for printing extra copies, otherwise than herein provided for, shall be by simple, concurrent, or joint resolution. Either House may print extra copies to the amount of five hundred dollars by simple resolution; if the cost exceeds that sum, the printing shall be ordered by concurrent resolution, except when the resolution is self-appropriating, when it shall be by joint resolution. Such resolutions, when presented to either House, shall be referred immediately to the Committee on Printing, who, in making their report, shall give the probable cost of the proposed printing upon the estimate of the Public Printer; and no extra copies shall be printed before such committee has reported: Provided, That the printing of additional copies may be performed upon orders of the Joint Committee on Printing within a limit of two hundred dollars in cost in any one instance: And provided further, That nothing in this paragraph shall be held to contravene the provisions of Public Resolution Numbered Eleven, approved March twenty-eighth, nineteen hundred and four.

Previous provisions similar to some extent to those of this paragraph were contained in Act Jan. 12, 1895, c. 23, § 59, Comp. St. 1901, p. 2556, which section is repealed by section 6 of this act set forth below.

Res. March 28, 1904, No. 11, mentioned in the last proviso of this paragraph, authorizing reprinting of certain documents for sale, is set forth above.

Printing of documents not provided for by existing law; estimates therefor; estimates to be submitted with reports, etc., in response to inquiries from Congress.

"Par. 6. Either House may order the printing of a document not already provided for by existing law, but only when the same shall be accompanied by an estimate from the Public Printer as to the probable cost thereof. Any Executive Department, bureau, board, or independent office of the Government submitting reports or documents in response to inquiries from Congress shall submit therewith an estimate of the probable cost of printing to the usual number. Nothing in this paragraph relating to estimates shall apply to reports or documents not exceeding fifty pages.

Cost of printing documents, etc., by order of Congress, not chargeable to other appropriation, to be charged to appropriation for printing and binding for Congress.

"Par. 7. The cost of the printing of any document or report hereafter printed by order of Congress which can not under the provisions of Public Resolution Numbered Thirteen, Fifty-ninth Congress, first session, approved March thirtieth, nineteen hundred and six, be properly charged to any other appropriation or allotment of appropriation already made, it shall, upon order of the Joint Committee on Printing, be charged to the allotment of appropriation for printing and binding for Congress.

Res. March 30, 1906, No. 13, mentioned in this section, prescribing the appropriations to which the cost of printing and binding for the Executive Departments, etc., shall be charged, is set forth above.

Stationery, blank books, etc., for Congress.

"Par. 8. Stationery, blank books, tables, forms, and other necessary papers preparatory to Congressional legislation, required for the official use of the Senate and the House of Representatives, or the committees and officers thereof, shall be furnished by the Public Printer upon requisition of the Secretary of the Senate and the Clerk of the House of Representatives, respectively. This shall not operate to prevent the purchase by the officers of the Senate and House of Representatives of such stationery and blank books as may be necessary for sale to Senators and Members in the stationery rooms of the two Houses as now provided by law.

Previous provisions similar to some extent to those of this paragraph were contained in Act Jan. 12, 1895, c. 23, § 99, Comp. St. 1901, p. 2586, which section is repealed by section 6 of this act, set forth below.

"Par. 9. Each Senator and Representative shall be entitled to the binding in half morocco, or material not more expensive, of but one copy of each public document to which he may be entitled, an account of which, with each Senator and Representative, shall be kept by the Secretary of the Senate and Clerk of the House, respectively."

"(b) Vessels and boats, except open boats as defined in subdivision (a), when fishing with drift nets, shall, so long as the nets are wholly or partly in the water, carry two white lights where they can best be seen. Such lights shall be placed so that the vertical distance between them shall be not less than six feet and not more than fifteen feet, and so that the horizontal distance between them, measured in a line with the keel, shall be not less than five feet and not more than ten feet. "(c) Vessels and boats, except open boats as defined in subdivision (a), when line fishing with their lines out and attached to or hauling their lines, and when not at anchor or stationary within the meaning of subdivision (h), shall carry the same lights as vessels fishing with drift nets. "Within the Mediterranean Sea and in the seas bordering the coasts of Japan and Korea sailing fishing vessels of less than twenty tons gross tonnage shall not be obliged to carry the lower of these two lights. Should they, however, not carry it, they shall show in the same position (in the direction of the lines) a white light, visible at a distance of not less than one sea mile on the approach of or to other vessels.

"(d) Vessels when engaged in trawling, by which is meant the dragging of an apparatus along the bottom of the sea—

"First. If steam vessels, shall carry in the same position as the white light mentioned in article two (a) a tri-colored lantern so constructed and fixed as to show a white light from right ahead to two points on each bow, and a green light and a red light over an arc of the horizon from two points on each bow to two points abaft the beam on the starboard and port sides, respectively; and not less than six nor more than twelve feet below the tri-colored lantern a white light in a lantern, so constructed as to show a clear, uniform, and unbroken light all around the horizon.

"(f) Fishing vessels and fishing boats may at any time use a flare-up light in addition to the lights which they are by this article required to carry and show, and they may also use working lights.

"(g) Every fishing vessel and every fishing boat under one hundred and fifty feet in length, when at anchor, shall exhibit a white light visible all around the horizon at a distance of at least one mile.

"Every fishing vessel of one hundred and fifty feet in length or upward, when at anchor, shall exhibit a white light visible all around the horizon at a distance of at least one mile, and shall exhibit a second light as provided for vessels of such length by article eleven.

"Should any such vessel, whether under one hundred and fifty feet in length or of one hundred and fifty feet in length or upward, be attached to a net or other fishing gear, she shall on the approach of other vessels show an additional white light at least three feet below the anchor light, and at a horizontal distance of at least five feet away from it in the direction of the net or gear.

"(h) If a vessel or boat when fishing becomes stationary in consequence of her gear getting fast to a rock or other obstruction, she shall in daytime haul down the day signal required by subdivision (k); at night show the light or lights prescribed for a vessel at anchor; and during fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain storms make the signal prescribed for a vessel at anchor. (See subdivision (d) and the last paragraph of article fifteen.)

"(i) In fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain storms, drift-net vessels attached to their nets, and vessels when trawling, dredging, or fishing with any kind of drag net, and vessels line fishing with their lines out, shall, if of twenty tons gross tonnage or upward, respectively, at intervals of not more than one minute make a blast; if steam vessels, with the whistle or siren, and if sailing vessels, with the foghorn, each blast to be followed by ringing the bell. Fishing vessels and boats of less than twenty tons gross tonnage shall not be obliged to give the above-mentioned signals; but if they do not, they shall make some other efficient sound signal at intervals of not more than one minute.

"(k) All vessels or boats fishing with nets or lines or trawls, when under way, shall in daytime indicate their occupation to an approaching vessel by displaying a basket or other efficient signal where it can best be seen. If vessels or boats at anchor have their gear out, they shall, on the approach of other vessels, show the same signal on the side on which those vessels can pass.

"The vessels required by this article to carry or show the lights hereinbefore specified shall not be obliged to carry the lights prescribed by article four (a) and the last paragraph of article eleven."

included in the area available for any other passengers, or in other areas for steerage passengers prescribed by this section.

"Tenth. In the measurement of the passenger decks and of the lowest passenger deck, the space occupied by that part of the personal baggage of the steerage passengers which the inspector permits to be carried there shall be included, and also, on whatever deck located, commodious and suitable dining rooms, lounging rooms, smoking rooms, lavatories, toilet rooms, and bath rooms: Provided, That—

"(a) The space in any place appropriated to the use of steerage passengers in which they sleep shall not be less than eighteen superficial feet in the case of the lowest passenger deck and fifteen superficial feet in the case of a passenger deck.
